

Anchor Developer Africa Logistics Park Launches In Tilisi

BY CORRESPONDENT

Tilisi's first and anchor developer, Africa Logistics Park dubbed 'ALP West' officially launched the first phase of their state-of-the-art warehousing facility in Tilisi Logistics Park.

'There is a great need for innovative logistics solutions that meet warehousing demands to which ALP have responded with a fantastic value proposition', says Tilisi co-CEO Raneer Nanji. Having bought 49 acres at Tilisi, the launch features the first 6 acres developed. ALP seeks to serve SMEs and startups by providing access to affordable modern storage spaces. 'This site is strategically located with direct highway access, allowing for easy distribution of goods to and from Central, Rift Valley and Western Kenya locations,' says Richard Hough, CEO of ALP.

The event held on 28th October at ALP's site featured esteemed speakers from various organisations with Hon Betty Maina (Cabinet Secretary Ministry of Industrialisation Trade and Enterprise Development) as the chief guest.

ALP and Tilisi's landmark deal and partnership has resulted in a conducive business environment for companies to thrive in. Recent national infrastructure upgrades position Tilisi as one of the most strategic locations for any business in Kenya.
